Arbuckle Acquitted At Third Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The remaining manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, who was acquitted last night by a jury, after six minutes of deliberation, was dismissed today by the district attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, film comedian, stood acquitted today after undergoing three trials on a charge of manslaughter for the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, screen actress, who was taken to a hospital fatally ill after attending a party in Arbuckle's hotel rooms here. Half an hour after the case was submitted to the jury late yesterday afternoon, the verdict of not guilty had been returned.

Members of the jury said the acquittal was reached by a unanimous vote within a few minutes after they retired to deliberate. Arbuckle said his plans were uncertain. "I am going to take a good rest and get rid of some of this surplus flesh," explained the actor whose picture fame was associated with his weighty physique. "If the public doesn't want me," he added, "I'll take my medicine. But after the quick vindication I have now received, I am sure the American people will be fair. I believe I am due for a comeback."

Members of the jury in statements to the press said Arbuckle "deserved more than acquittal." Mrs. Irene Wilson, a juror, declared the jury had "been absolutely no case against Arbuckle." Another member said the comedian "impressed as a man who was telling the truth."

District Attorney Matthew F. Brady said, "I did not believe in my duty from the very start of this case and gave it the best I had. If a similar case was to come before me, I would do the same thing all over again. As to the verdict, I will say that I am an American citizen and I will take my hat off to the verdict of an American jury."

The two previous Arbuckle trials resulted in disagreements.

AMERICAN DRIVERS KILLED BY FAMISHED RUSSIAN POPULACE

PARIS, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—A number of American drivers of relief wagons in Russia have been killed in the streets by the famished populace, who seized the horses for food, according to reports received today by American relief organizations in Paris from the Ufa, Bashkire and Tselizabinsk districts. Two drivers for the American relief administration were killed this week, the reports said.

Japs Drive Chita Troops Out Of Neutral Zone

Bank Of England Reduces Discount Rate; Another Step Toward Normal Conditions

LONDON, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Bank of England today reduced its discount rate to four per cent. The last previous reduction was on February 16, last, when the rate was dropped from five to four and one-half per cent.

The reduction, coming on the eve of the Easter holidays, was an act of surprise to the money market and financial interests. Business in Lombard street had begun this morning without the usual "subject to lower bank rate," which is usually posted when there is a possibility of a reduction during the day and the belief is expressed that the action was prompted by the treasury, which has been ruling the money market for some time past.

The reduction, however, was welcomed as another step in the restoration of more normal conditions and the loosening of money for trade purposes.

NEW YORK, April 13.—With exception of Switzerland, Great Britain now has the lowest bank rate in the world as the result of the Bank of England reducing its discount rate to four per cent today. Switzerland cut its four per cent rate to 3.12 per cent on March 2 on account of the excessive gold supply in that country.

SEMENOFF MUST GIVE NEW BOND OR BE JAILED

NEW YORK, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Gregorie Semenov, former Ataman of the Cossacks, for whom deputy sheriffs have been searching for two days, surrendered in Sheriff Nagle's office today.

NEW YORK, April 13.—General Gregorie Semenov, former "Ataman of the Cossacks," in eastern Siberia, who was arrested upon his arrival here last week, today faced the task of furnishing a new bail bond or going to jail before night. Officials of the surety company which furnished the bond the night after Semenov was arrested, gave notice yesterday of the firm's intention to cancel its responsibility in the case.

Considerable mystery developed as to the whereabouts of the "Ataman" last night. Two or three deputy sheriffs were hunting for him, but they failed. It was declared that Semenov was in the city and would be produced by his attorneys today.

The referee in the bankruptcy proceedings of the Yourevela Home and Foreign Trading Company, the receiver for which caused Semenov's arrest, also intended to question the general relative to the looting of the company's goods at Chita. Claims arising from the alleged action on the part of Semenov and his subordinates were laid before a court at Harbin, Manchuria, last December, and a judgment of about $475,000 was awarded the company.

DUBLIN PEACE PARLEY OPENS

DUBLIN, April 13.—(By Associated Press.)—The peace conference summoned by Lord Mayor O'Neill, of Dublin, began its sessions in the mansion house here at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The proceedings were private.

All the leaders of the opposing factions the mayor had invited in an effort to bring about unity or an understanding to prevent further disorders, were present.

The conference adjourned late in the afternoon until Wednesday next, without any agreement having been reached.

It is reported the earnest wish was expressed by all the parties represented that no interference occur with public meetings.

DUBLIN, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—An agreement whereby the Irish people at a free election can decide the dispute between the free states and Republicans was hoped for at the conference of leaders of opposing factions and others interested in peace, called for today. It was recognized that the issue between the two parties was too sharply drawn to admit of a political accommodation, but efforts will be made to reach such an understanding as will discourage further disorders throughout the country.

Those invited to the conference were Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins for the provisional free state government; Eamon De Valera and Charles Burgess for the Republicans; Archbishop Byrne, of Dublin, and Stephen O'Mara, lord mayor of Limerick; Lord Mayor O'Neill, of Dublin, who called the meeting, was expected to act as chairman.

Mr. De Valera has opposed an election on the existing register, which he contends would exclude many young men and women who have received voting age since it was compiled, and Mr. Griffith has been against a new register on the ground that its preparation would delay the elections, which he had planned for June.

Those seeking to bring about an adjustment believe an agreement can be reached whereby the elections could be held in August under a new register, and thus avoid any interference at the polls by the dissident section of the Irish Republican army, which upholds Mr. De Valera's views.

North Carolina Congressman Dies

Residents Flee Before Flood

CHICAGO, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Illinois rivers above St. Louis, unable to pour their flood waters into the swollen Mississippi have spread out today into the lowlands in many communities and at Fairbanks Valley ranch near Carrollton, Ill., the homes of fifty families stood in nine feet of swirling water, which swept their possessions away and covered their stock batus and growing crops.

Beardstown faced the possibility of becoming an island when the water crept up to the railroad track, the last means of travel out.

One hundred city blocks were covered with seven to nine feet of water. Residents of Fredericks, near Beardstown, also have been forced to leave their homes.

VICKSBURG, MISS., April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—At least nine villages are inundated or surrounded by water and upwards of 250 square miles of farm land is under water as a result of flood stages in the lower Mississippi and its tributaries. The villages under water or cut off by the flood are Elaine, La. Brook, Countess, Landell, Battle, Melwood, Lacombe, Modoc and Ferguson, all in Arkansas. Most of those driven out of their homes by the water, are negroes.

AVIATOR WHO PLANNED FLIGHT AROUND WORLD KILLED IN PRACTICE FLIGHT

LONDON, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sir Ross Smith, the Australian aviator, who with his brother, Sir Keith, had planned to start from Croydon, April 23, on a flight around the world, was killed when his plane crashed in a practice flight at Croydon today.

Lieutenant Bennett, an engineer, who was planning to accompany Sir Ross and his brother on their around-the-world flight, also was killed. The machine which crashed was the one the Smiths intended to use in their flight. Captain Concorde, of the Vickers' Company, had flown in it for a half hour, then handed it over to Captain Smith. As the machine was approaching the airfield to land it got into a spin and the crash followed.

Captain Sir Ross Smith sprang into prominence in aviation in 1919 when accompanied by his brother, Sir Keith, he made a flight from England to Australia, 11,500 miles, winning a prize of 10,000 pounds sterling from the Australian government. Both aviators were knighted for the feat.

Captain Smith saw distinguished service in the European war, first with the Australian light horse in Egypt and Gallipoli, and later as an aviator with the Australian flying corps in Egypt and Palestine. He was one of the British army aviators who in December, 1918, made the first flight from Cairo to Calcutta.

The route of the flight around the world which the brothers expected to start from Croydon, near London, April 23, was by way of France, Egypt, Asia Minor, India, China, Japan and Siberia, thence jumping to North America at Bering Straits, with landings on some of the Aleutian islands and at Unalaska, in Alaska, thence across Canada to the Soo, swinging there to the southeast to New York and continuing along the New England coast to New Foundland for the jump across the Atlantic to Ireland.

The aviators expected to cover the 21,500 miles in 240 hours of actual flying spread over a period of three months. Their machine was of the hydro-airplane type, fitted with wheels for alighting on land and propelled by an engine of 450 horsepower.

Hard-Coal Workers Get Last Pay

HAZELTON, PA., April 13.—(By Associated Press.)—The one hundred and fifty-five thousand idle mine-workers of the anthracite coal fields today began receiving the last pay they will get until the collieries resume. The men expressed faith in the ability of their committee to reach a satisfactory agreement on a new wage scale with the operators.

According to union officials, the annual payroll in the coal region is $37,000,000, this being 100 times that operators have mentioned in their conference.

Nations Talk Of Quitting The Genoa Conference

GENOA, April 13.—(By Associated Press.)—While rumors of a sensational nature were flying thickly about Genoa conference circle today, most of them being promptly disavowed, the one fact that appeared to stand out in the somewhat clouded atmosphere was that neither the disarmament nor reparations questions would be brought up for specific action against the opposition of France.

The disarmament discussion had centered in the rumor that Prime Minister Lloyd George would propose a military holiday for a fixed time. This was flatly disavowed this afternoon by members of the British delegation.

Other reports were that the Russians and the Germans were preparing to leave the conference unless reparations and disarmament were made part of the agenda. These were also officially denied.

It was pointed out that it was still too early for any of the powers to quit the conference on the ground that the gathering was not developing value to their interests, so the proceedings have not reached a definite enough stage to justify such action before the home publics of the various delegations, which were thoroughly advised in advance regarding the agenda.

The Russians and the Germans meanwhile are both busily engaged in trying to digest the report of the London experts on Russia, and both are becoming increasingly dissatisfied the further they delve into it. It seems improbable that the sub-commission on Russian affairs will be able to meet tomorrow as the Russians declare they have not been able to assimilate such a comprehensive document sufficiently in the brief time they have had since its presentation. Their request for additional time, it is thought probable, is also inspired by a desire for a fuller communication with Moscow.

Adolph Joffe, of the Russian delegation, declared today that many of the recommendations in the report were "quite absurd" and designed to put Russia under a foreign yoke "the same as Turkey and China."

As to the disarmament and reparations issues, it appeared clear that the conference could not conceivably entertain any resolutions relating directly to them unless France consented to a change in the agenda. It is impossible to prevent members of the conference from discussing reparations and disarmament, but more discussion is not regarded as a violation of the agenda and all members are pledged not to move consideration of questions that have been barred.

NEGRO PREFERRED HANGING: CHANGED HIS MIND

FAYETTEVILLE, GA., April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gena Confield, the negro who preferred hanging rather than to serve five years for burglary, has changed his mind and has escaped from the gallows, where he was awaiting execution.

When Confield was convicted of burglary two weeks ago and sentenced to a five-year term in the penitentiary, he exclaimed that he preferred the death penalty and stabbed his nephew who had turned state's evidence. The nephew died and Confield was indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced to death within 15 hours.

They ran but some were said to have been injured.

School Student Wins Lip-Stick Case; Judge's Ruling Favors Cosmetics

CORNING, ARK., April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Miss Pearl Fugley was ready to resume her studies in the Knobel school today, following rendering of a verdict in her favor by Judge W. W. Bandy in the "Lip Stick" case here last night.

Judge Bandy said he would issue a writ of mandamus today to have the school board set aside its regulations barring students who use cosmetics.

Miss Fugley was suspended last September because she violated the rule. In his decision, Judge Bandy held that face powder did not interfere with the health of the pupils and they could use it if they wished.

Russians Ready To Give Financial Guarantees To Allies

LONDON, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Russians at Genoa will give all the financial guarantees demanded in the program prepared by the allied experts, but flatly refused to accept the clause providing for mixed tribunals to fix responsibility, says a Genoa dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph. The Russians consider the tribunal clause as an infringement of Russian sovereignty.

GENOA, April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nikolai Lentine, Soviet premier, will come to Genoa to replace George Chicherin as head of the Russian delegation, when the negotiations at the economic conference reach the proper stage, says the newspaper Sovetsk.

The newspaper adds that an apartment is being prepared for Premier Polakoff, of France, at the Villa Ragio, and that he is expected here shortly. The meeting of the commission on Russia has been postponed to tomorrow, M. Chicherin awaiting instructions from Leningrad at Moscow, with whom he is in direct communication.

Cleveland Strikers Go Back To Work

CLEVELAND, O., April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Several thousand building trades union workers, on strike since March 1, returned to work this morning under the 1921 wage scale. And by tomorrow morning, union leaders said, all of the seven thousand men who went on strike will have returned to work.

The deadlock was broken when members of the Building Trades' Employers' Association at a meeting late yesterday authorized contractors to resume operations on the old wage scale, pending negotiations to be begun immediately whereby the unions and contractors may reach an early agreement on wages to be effective for the remainder of the year and appointment of a public committee by the employers to work out a plan whereby future strikes and lock-outs in the building trades will be prevented.

"We have been waiting for the contractors to take this step for a long time," Charles Smith, business representative of the Building Trades Council, declared today. "I am sure every union official will cooperate with the employers in their efforts to reach a satisfactory agreement and also in drawing up a contract that will prevent strikes in the future."

The tie-up on March 1 followed an announcement by the employers of a wage cut ranging from 13 to 26 per cent, which the workers refused to accept.

The 1921 scale ranged from 50 cents an hour for glaziers and other workers to $1.10 an hour for plumbers.

Road Matter Up To State Highway Department

At a joint meeting of the Good Roads Committees of the Chamber of Commerce and Portsmouth Automobile Club this afternoon it was reported that no word had been received from Columbus as to when a local committee representing the two bodies could get an audience before the State Highway Department.

The committees are hard at work on the matter of protesting against the use of brick alone on the improvement of the "Y" road. The committees cannot take any further action until some word is received from the State Highway Department.

Contracts have already been awarded for the improving of the road with brick only and the course necessary to have further action taken on the road improvement demands careful consideration and considerable time.

First Circus Of Year Is Coming Soon

The billposters are here. The red and gold wagons are coming. The No. 1 Advertising Car of the Sparks Big Three-Ring Circus arrived in the city this morning with thirty-two billposters, lithographers and advertising men aboard. One week from today another advertising car with an additional crew of billers and agents will again invade the city. The big show will be in Portsmouth on Thursday, April 27, for two performances. The Sparks Circus bears the distinction of being one of the oldest, largest and best on the road and this season finds it in the "Big Show" class, with an entirely new equipment consisting of all new steel trains made up of seventy-foot cars, new tents, new wagons and cages. In fact, everything used by this organization is new. The animal acts this year are better than ever, the winter months having been spent in training many additional acts, and the two-hour program is replete with animal features, many of which vie with the human stars in performing difficult feats. It's going to be a thrilling show from the opening act—the two herds of monster elephants, each group being worked entirely by lady trainers—to the great Chariot, who causes gasps of wonder and amazement at his death-defying roller skate head slides from the loftiest point of the large tent to the ground, a distance of 150 feet. Are there clowns?

Yes, thirty of them, and every one of these fun-makers can produce more laughs in a minute than all the "Henry Ford" jokes can in a century. The varied two-hour program contains a score or more of high class acrobatic stunts, wild and domestic trained animal acts and high class horses. Remember the day and the date.

With more than 25 searchers, failing in their efforts to recover from the Ohio river the bodies of Leonard Warnock, 24, Anthony Warnock, 19, and Thomas Truitt, 45, another method was started this afternoon, when dynamite was used in large quantities in an effort to bring the bodies to the surface. The three men were drowned Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, when the skiff in which they were crossing the river capsized.

All workmen in King's landing, east of Fullerton, the little settlement, the men passed through every morning and every evening on their way to and from work, are staying away from their jobs at the N. & W. terminals just across the river, in search for the bodies.

These men Wednesday left their homes several hours earlier than usual to start the search for the bodies. They kept it up all day yesterday, not quitting until about 5:30 o'clock last night. After several hours' rest they were back on the job again today, using barbed wire and grapple hooks to drag the bodies of the river.

While many searched near the spot where the men disappeared from view, others worked several hundred yards below. Diver Nate Williams of this city, was called to the scene yesterday afternoon, but after going out in a boat, with several of the searchers said that the water was too swift to work in. He also gave his opinion that the bodies were not on the bar where they drowned, but on account of the current of the river there, had been washed considerable distance down stream. Acting on his opinion, the searchers today confined their efforts to the river some distance below the scene of drowning which was just opposite the N. & W. backshops. The ten boats being used in the search were scattered over a large area of the river, most of them working near the mouth of Tygart creek which is about a half mile below the scene of the drowning.

While the large number of men were busy in the boats on the river, many others gathered in groups on the bank to watch the men all hoping one of the searchers would bring one of the bodies to the surface any minute.

Among the large number of searchers are Earl (Toogles) 24, and Harry Warnock, 25, the two young men who had narrow escapes from meeting the same fate as their three companions, when their skiff capsized Tuesday afternoon and threw all five men into the storm-tossed waters of the Ohio river. The men were on their way home from work at the N. & W. terminals when the lives of three of the party were taken in such a tragic manner.

Those present at the meeting were Samuel Horchow, Albert Zoellner, George Ahrend, Arthur Rode, Joseph Kountz, Charles Zoellner, Albert Harting, Will Burt and W. A. Pepper.

Various trade promotion activities were discussed and it was decided to call a mass meeting of retail merchants in two or three weeks at which time the various trade producing projects will be introduced.

One of the main things discussed this morning was the benefit of a general mailing list that will take in all territory that should send buyers into Portsmouth. The second project is advertising, it being decided that a "Buy At Home" campaign should be inaugurated. The third in line of importance is a soundability tour. Retail merchants with local musical talent and other entertain-

By visiting in the territory where many prospective buyers are located it will be possible to form friendships and to inform people of the possibilities of Portsmouth as a trading center.

W. A. Pepper was named chairman of a committee to plan for the publicity project. Albert Harting was named chairman of the committee to look after obtaining mailing lists. George Ahrend was named chairman of the committee to make plans for the Soundability Tour. The matter of sending women canvassers into outlying districts to acquaint the people there of the service offered by Portsmouth merchants was also discussed.

The Bureau also endorsed the efforts of the Ladies' Musicals which organization is doing good work in the promotion of better music in Portsmouth.

They also endorsed the work of Foster Krueke who they say has been diligent in his work carried on in conjunction with the music lovers of Portsmouth.

Homer Cook, nine-year-old youth, who has given the police much concern through his penchant for petty stealing, extended his activities to a larger field and bigger game Wednesday night, when he mounted his father's horse and rode away.

The father, Creighton Cook and the police made a vigorous search for the youth and the missing horse, but without success. Later they learned the boy was under arrest in Ironton. The boy has been arrested a score of times within the last couple of months, but was dismissed on each occasion by reason of his age. The officers take some consolation in the fact that the lad will attain his ninth birthday anniversary soon, which will bring him within the juvenile age, and make it possible to send him to a corrective institution.

The wife did not seem inclined to give Jackson another chance, declaring that her patience had already been taxed to the limit by the husband's conduct toward her.

After the collision the speeder sped up and disappeared but the officers who responded to a hurry call secured a good description of the driver and his car and camped on his trail for sometime only to lose the offender in the chase.

At Trinity Church

"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

These words, which compose perhaps the most familiar and best loved passage in the Bible, formed the text of last evening's message as delivered at Trinity by the Rev. W. C. Millman. These messages which have been continuing for the past three weeks, will close on the night of Good Friday, and the Sunday school teachers holding decision day cards are requested to interview their pupils so that the cards may be in the hands of the pastor in time for the receiving of the children into preparatory classes on Sunday morning. It is anticipated that this, which is the evening of Holy Thursday, will be an evening of unusual interest.

All other things look cheap and worthless when compared with the love of God. He who had no other so loved father and lost humanity that he sent that only son into the world, to redeem the world by the only way possible, the way of the cross. God was in Christ Jesus unto the uttermost of love and service. He was an uttermost Christ, never failing to heal those who came to him, and speaking with tremendous earnestness until there was none left to hear, then turning into the mountains would look into the face of the Father to see if there was anything he had failed to do. His place in the world can never be filled by another, but he bids those who would get the fullness which life offers, to follow him, and in so doing they too, can attain to that uniqueness which he offers in service.

At Franklin Ave.

The revival services at Franklin Avenue church are growing steadily and a large crowd attended the Wednesday evening services. The half hour song service led by Mrs. Smith was very inspiring. The large men's chorus occupied the choir loft and sang, "Just Outside the Door." Mrs. Stanton Shelnah presided at the organ. Rev. Severinghaus and Mrs. Smith sang a gospel duet, "Precious Blood of Calvary" which was enjoyed by all. Rev. Severinghaus was at his best and preached a powerful sermon. The services will continue week and a large crowd is anticipated.

At U. B. Church

There was another fine attendance last night at the United Brethren church, with another fine sermon by Dr. W. A. Knapp. The music, under the direction of Russell Kauffman, was a pleasing feature of the service. Dr. Knapp chose his text from 1 Peter 3:9, "The Lord is not slack in keeping His promises; He is long suffering, not willing that any should perish, but all come to repentance."

"You have often wondered why God did not bring judgment upon some sinners suddenly, why He does not cut them down in their sin. This explains it. One sin is as bad as another in the sight of God. All sinners look alike to him. If justice were meted out, you and I would face judgment, but the Lord is not willing that any should perish. If any man or woman in this audience is led by the Spirit of God, He has done everything in His power to bring them to repentance. You must repent if you are saved. You go on from year to year, trampling His holy law under your feet, and He has stayed His hand because of His great love. Some people would come into the church or would come to this altar if they could go on in their sins. Sin is damnation and brings judgment. Christ does not save men in their sins. He saves them from their sins. Some people think that turning away from sin is hard and takes the joy out of life. The Bible says that the way of the transgressor is hard. God made it hard for the sinner to sin so he would turn to Him. God never hated a sinner but He hates sin and He wants you to turn to Him. Jesus said, 'Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.' It is the Christian life that is easy. God puts obstacles all along the way to temptation. The first I will mention which I have just read, the Bible stands between man and hell. How many people do you suppose have been saved because the Bible came across their pathway? It is full of pictures of sin, the way of sin and its results. Some people say they refuse to read the Bible because of some of the stories in it. The fault is not the fault of the Bible but in the hearts of the readers. Then there are people who refuse to read the Bible because it convicts them of sin."

Another obstacle across the path is the influence of godly parents who guide your life. Many an ungodly man on the road to perdition has been turned back because of the prayers of his mother. God has put them between you and Hell. Mothers, if you are praying, keep on praying. You may not see the result while you live but the effects of your prayers will long be felt and bear fruit after you have gone. Remember that a wonderful thing but prayer is more wonderful."

These are no mere sermons that are preached which blockade your way to Hell. Many sinners have been turned back because of some good sermon they have heard. The Holy Spirit is a mighty influence God is putting in the way to perdition. Do you remember a night in your revelry when you were disgusted with what you had done? You hated yourself and your miserable life. That was the holy spirit of God, for the man can sin and not suffer from it. You cannot escape the judgment of sin. The last thing I will mention is the cross which stands between every man and perdition. He that has reached the end of the road there is a narrow place which you must pass and at that place there is a cross with the Son of God hanging from it. You must walk through the blood of the Son of God if you go to Hell. You must trample His Holy love beneath your feet and tear it out of your life.

God is seeking in every way possible to turn men unto the way of life. He is standing with outstretched arms waiting to receive you. Do you realize that salvation is a gift of God? It is for you and you may have it for the asking. If you will turn from your sins.

First Christian

Before the largest week-day crowd of the entire revival, Rev. Gerald Culerson delivered a most powerful sermon on the subject, "The Cry from the Abyss," at the First Christian church, Wednesday evening, drawing lessons that went straight home and will live with the hearers for many years to come. The Georgia orator was eloquent, earnest and sincere, and he was given such attention that he caused him to do his best. Preceding the sermon, Rev. Nate B. Crabtree led the big audience through a spirited song service, climaxed by a selection from the male chorus that put everybody in perfect attune to the joy of the meeting.

A great sermon is promised tonight when Rev. Culerson will speak from the subject, "The Evidence of Pardon." Services begin promptly at 7:15 o'clock and those who desire a choice seat are advised to come early.

In his sermon, last evening, Rev. Culerson said in part: "No deeper cry than the cry from the human soul! Who can measure it—there is no power that can sound those depths, except the spirit of God who breathes into it the breath of life. God has walled the world with an unclimbable wall. He has locked the heart and no one can search it except His spirit. We cannot probe the depth without His help. Who can discern his own errors? The heart is the source of all evil—all foulness, wickedness and all goodness. He knoweth us all. He is the Spirit, the plumb, the square, the compass and all other instruments to measure the depths of the human heart. If our thoughts were portrayed on our foreheads, we would rush to cover more quickly than did Adam and Eve."

"A mighty king on his mighty throne was loved by all Israel and all Judah. David was a plain man and frank and went in and out before all the people, yet there came a time when he slacked and slipped and committed murder and that other foul sin of adultery. Who would have thought it was in David's heart? Who knows what is in any heart, but the spirit of God?"

"My fellow pilgrims, there may be some hidden, some unexpected weakness in your life or mine that will cause us to fall without God's help. It is not original sin that we must look out for, but original sinning—the things folks plan in secret. It's not the monkey-made man of Darwinian fame that we need to worry about, but the man-made monkey of every day life that ought to worry us."

"There are three circles of life—the outer circle is society life, we are on dress parade—it is easy to be good in society—a monkey could do that. Lay down conventions keep us right and our friends think we are No. 1 in society. The second circle is our home life, but even here things are prejudice in man's favor. He may carry on and rant behind the closed doors of his home, and his family will not tell, because they are ashamed for folks to know it. Neither society life nor the home life tells what a man is. But the inner circle, the heart life, is what man is."

Pimples and boils

—caused by errors of diet

A well-known skin specialist says that pimples are "signal flags of danger" often indicating errors in diet.

Indeed pimples are so frequently associated with faulty habits of eating and improper digestion that the first thing to do is to see that our food is right.

Fresh yeast is a wonderful corrective food for these skin disorders. Fleischmann's Yeast is rich in the elements which improve appetite and digestion and which keep the intestines clean of poisons.

Physicians and hospitals all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast for pimples and boils. It gets right at the basic cause of these complaints.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast daily before or between meals to keep your skin healthy. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

Not Impressed With New Infielders

Ridgion Hall and Frank B. Pratt of Trenton have returned home from Cincinnati, where they saw the opening game. They say that unless some of the Red youngsters come through and make good and tough signs up the Moran Men will not cut much fire in the National. They were not overly impressed with Cavemy and Pindell, the new infielders.

He fired several shots at the tires of the speeder's machine, but his aim was faulty. According to Capt. Startzman, the man was driving his car down Chillicothe street at the rate of 40 miles an hour.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Miss Dolly Wise—I noticed in your column Saturday evening that the "old hen or chicken" giving her name as "An Admirer" wanted to know who the good looking Hilltop widow was. She should call some evening when I am there and as she said, "who could lead me a merry chase?"

PROSPEROUS FARMER.
You must have been so excited when you read that letter that you began what was in it. The letter was not written by a lady, but by a man who said he could lead you a merry chase if he ever met the charming widow you have been flirting with.

Huntington, W. Va., Dear Dolly: I am writing you in regard to the "old hen or chicken" who wanted to know who the good looking Hilltop widow was. I have filed my application for a bonus but to date have heard nothing from it. Will you please inform me if they are paying the bonus. I have heard that residents of Ohio have received their checks. Do you think I will get mine?

AN EX-SOLDIER.
You will get your bonus, but you will have to wait until Uncle Sam goes ready to give it to you. Checks are being mailed out every day but there has been some delay in the Columbus office and also in the headquarters at Washington owing to lack of office help.

Dear Dolly—My girl went to Kentucky for a two weeks visit and I am so homesick and blue that I don't know what to do. Dolly do you think it would be all right for me to take another girl to the show while she is gone? I like my girl and would not want to do anything that would make her mad. Do you think she would care if I went with another girl?

G. W.
If you are not engaged to her and did not promise her you would not go with any other girls, I see no reason why she should object. If you like the girl as well as you think you do, you would not want to go with any one else while she is away.

Dear Miss Wise—Please print a recipe for dandelion blossom wine.
A TIMES READER.
I printed this recipe in Sunday's paper. If you have lost your paper you can get another one at the Times office.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a man who will ask a girl's father for her hand when she has been of age six years? He is 38 years of age. Do you think it necessary for the girl to ask his father if he will let his son marry her? Do you think a man really loves a girl when he looks into her eyes, and grins like a possum and tells her he loves her, or is he just making fun of her?

ANXIOUS GIRL.
A man should ask the girl first, then if she is willing to marry him, he can talk the matter over with her father. If he thinks it necessary.

think, however, that a girl should tell her parents all about her affairs and have the matter settled before he poses the question. In view of the fact that love is blind, and the average girls can't see any further ahead than the marriage ceremony, the wise father will have a talk with his prospective son-in-law and find out whether or not he can provide a good home for his daughter and see what his future prospects are. If all fathers would do this there would not be so many unhappy marriages.

Dear Miss Wise: Would you please answer this question for me? I bought a kitchen cabinet here in the city, and the furniture man told me he had bought furniture ahead for 2 years, and that cabinets would not come down, so I listened to him, and right after I bought the cabinet they came down in price. I can get the same cabinet today for over $22 less than what this one cost, and I turned my cabinet in for this for $10 besides payments I have made and am willing to lose it all. If they will only take the cabinet back. When I got the cabinet my husband had good work but since he has been out of work and we have had so much sickness, I saw four doctors and I want to pay them and I can get along with the kitchen cabinet. Now Miss Wise, what I want you to tell me can they make my husband pay for this cabinet when we did not sign no paper at all to get it, and is willing to give it up. Please answer as soon as possible as I would like to know and I want to move and do not want to take it with me. I will watch the Times for an answer.

The furniture man may have told you the truth when he said he bought furniture two years ahead, and he may have sold the cabinet to you at a reasonable price considering what he had to pay for it, but he had no right to tell you that they would not come down for two years, just to make the sale, especially when he knew your circumstances. If the prices dropped immediately after you bought the cabinet, he must have had a "hunch" that they were coming down shortly, and that is the reason he was anxious to sell at the high price. If he put you over on you like that, I think he should make an allowance to you, or take the cabinet back since you can't pay for it. If not, you can probably get your money out of it if you advertise it for sale.

Adventures Of The Twins

As Nancy and Nick came along the road, queer people gazed at them curiously.

THE red feather pen flew out of Nick's pocket toward Cobalt Town and found its place in the wing of the furious falcon which guarded the gate to King Indig's Palace.

As Nancy and Nick came along the road queer people gazed at them curiously. "They were the Diddyevers with the blue hair."

"Look!" said one, poking his neighbor. "There are some strangers. Who do you suppose they are?" "They must be important," came the answer, "for they couldn't have crossed the Seven Mountains. I wonder what the black thing is."

"Let's go and ask." Which they did. When they heard that it was the record with Longhead's message a wild cheer arose. "Long live the Twins!" they shouted. "Long live King Indig and long live Princess Therna! Long live everybody. We may have a queen soon!"

"But," said Nick, "we don't know what the record says. Longhead may have decided that Princess Therna is to marry King Verdo with the green beard."

It seems that he couldn't have said a worse thing. For instantly there was a hubbub. The Diddyevers began to act like crazy people. Their fury was terrible to see. It was like waving a red flag in front of a very cross bull.

"Traitors!" yelled the Diddyevers. "Talking about those awful Korse-knots! And saying that the beautiful princess may marry their ugly king! Ugh!"

Nancy hurried to pacify them in her nice way. "Oh," she smiled "but wouldn't it be nice if she would marry your king?"

Instantly there was peace again. "Hear! Hear!" the Diddyevers cheered loudly. "That's the talk. Now we shall take you to King Indig, if the furious falcon will let you past the gate."

Modern Woodmen To Entertain Popular Deputy Friday Night

What is expected to be one of the biggest nights in the history of the local camp, No. 3883 Modern Woodmen of America, will occur on Friday evening, April 14, when the well proportioned form of Noel C. Sherburne, state deputy, and regarded as one of the most popular Woodmen in the state, will sit around the camp-fire and watch the crack drill team and the officers of the camp confer the work upon a large class of candidates. Mr. Sherburne, who resides at Newark, O., and who is the service director of that thriving city, arrived in Portsmouth, Thursday noon, from McArthur, O. He was met at the train by the reception committee, consisting of E. W. Smith, Judge Nate B. Gilliland, James Starling, James Hooper and E. W. Sheridan, and escorted to the Washington Hotel. Mr. Sherburne will visit the Schotenville Camp this evening, and the session will be attended by a large number of members of Portsmouth Camp.

State Deputy Sherburne has visited the local camp quite a number of times, and his coming has always elicited much enthusiasm in Woodmen circles. He is a bundle of energy, good fellowship—with a ready tongue and a hand clasp that is genuine. He has been state deputy of Ohio for a long number of years, but manages to stay young. He has watched Woodcraft grow rapidly in the Buckeye state. Last year Ohio led the van due to a large measure to the excellent supervision of Mr. Sherburne, whose force of deputies have inspired the enthusiasm of their chief. In all National Encampments, Ohio's state deputy is always sought for counsel, for his judgment on anything pertaining to the good of the order is always regarded as infallible. Mr. Sherburne and Postmaster Val Lee Harold were boys together, and there has sprung up between the two ties of friendship that will never be severed. The only time Mr. Sherburne would think of being late to a camp-fire would be when he and Mr. Harold got to recalling boyhood pranks.

The entertainment committee of the Woodmen has been instructed to go to the limit in preparation of the big feed, and that is all that was necessary. The committee will have an ample supply on hand to replenish every appetite that will be at the meeting tomorrow night. Incidentally the initiatory committee will have several surprises.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. You can prove it.

When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin.

A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser. It drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rose. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S. S. S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Three Hours With Jesus

For ministering to the devotional needs of those who seek to spend Good Friday with their crucified Lord, no service compares with that known as "The Three Hours." It will be observed in thousands of churches all over the world tomorrow, and for the twenty-fifth consecutive year it will be held in All Saints' Church. The service is the most solemn of all services; conducted as it is in an atmosphere of grief, with the altar stripped of all its beautiful ornaments, and with music in keeping with the occasion. An address on each of the "Seven Last Words" from the Cross is delivered. Opportunity for silent prayer is given and the spoken prayers and responses are notably beautiful. A form of service is printed so that all may take part in the devotion. The service begins at 12:00 p. m. and ends at 3:00 p. m., when the passing bell is rung thirty-three times and silence observed by the congregation. You are at liberty to leave the church at the close of any one of the addresses. Hundreds of people have been in the habit of availing themselves of this priceless and unique opportunity to mark in a fitting way their love and devotion to their Lord. In His Name you are invited to be one of the hundreds who will attend this service tomorrow. All Saints' Church is two squares west of Chillicothe street, on Fourth, at the corner of Fourth and Canal streets.

Steel Industry Not Seriously Affected By Coal Strike; Outlook Is Threatening

CLEVELAND, O., April 13.—The Iron Trade Review today says: Possibilities of interrupted operations have been brought before the steel industry in a positively threatening manner by the spread of a coal strike among the non-union miners of the Cincinnati region upon which so many of the blast furnaces are dependent for constant fuel supplies. The dislocation of production in that territory is not freely admitted by the operators is much more serious than had been anticipated.

Homer Cook Blacks Face To Elude Arrest; Nabbed In Ironton

The following from the Ironton Register is of interest here as Homer Cook has been arrested here five times in three weeks and recently walked away from the mayor's office after being picked up on a theft charge.

"Homer Cook, wanted for stealing butter from a dealer, was brought into probate court Wednesday and turned over to Sheriff Dement to await a hearing. He is already under a suspended sentence to the boys' industrial school and Probate Judge Payne stated that the sentence would be enforced."

"Young Cook is said to be incorrigible and has caused the authorities no little trouble. He led Chief of Police Dunn a merry chase through the Northside upon an occasion a short time ago, then went to his relatives at Portsmouth, O. Later he returned with his face all blacked up and eluded the authorities all during his visit here. They have been awaiting his arrival here and this morning when the theft of butter and other articles was reported to Chief Dunn he immediately located the youth and brought him into juvenile court."

The church was well-filled at the meeting last night. Sunday school attendance has increased over ten per cent since a spirited revival meeting held last November.

In the summer of 1914, Mark Sabre, a man who is ostracized from human sympathy and understanding with the sole exception of Lady Nona Tybar, an old sweetheart, now unhappily married.

Sabre's prosaic and snobbish wife, Mabel, fails to understand her husband's poetic and whimsical temper-

On his leave home he gets a cold reception from his wife and business partners and finds Effie, who is companion to his wife, is being bullied by her.

It would have been uncommonly jolly to have had Bright Effie as companion on the walks, and once or twice he did. But Mabel showed very clearly that this was very far from having her approval and on the second occasion said so. There was the slightest possible little tiff about it; and thereupon—there was frequent little passages over Effie, arising all ways out of his doing what Mabel called "forever sticking up for her." How frequent they were, and how much they annoyed Mabel, he did not realize until, in the last week of his leave, and in the midst of a sticking up for her scene, Mabel surprisingly announced, "Well, anyway I'm sick and tired of the girl, and I'm sick and tired of having you always sticking up for her, and I'm going to get rid of her—tomorrow."

"But, Mabel—what will her people think?"

"I'm sure I don't care what they think. If you're so concerned about the precious girl, I'll tell her mother that I was going to make other arrangements in any case and that as this was your last week we thought we'd like to be alone together. Will that satisfy you?"

"I hope very much indeed that you don't do it."

But she did do it. On the following day Effie left. Sabre, pretending to know nothing about it, went for a long walk all day. When he returned Effie was gone. He said nothing. Her name was not again mentioned between him and Mabel. It happened that only the reference to her sudden departure in which he was concerned was with Twynning.

Setting out on his return to France his orders were to join a Fusilier battalion, reporting to 24th Division—he found Twynning on the platform at Tidborough station buying a paper.

"Hello, old man," said Twynning. "Just off? I say, old man, old man, old Bright's very upset about Effie getting the sack from your place like that. How was it?"

Twynning was looking keenly at him. "But a bit sudden, wasn't it? I mean to say, I thought you were on such friendly terms with the girl. Why, only a couple of days before she left I saw you with her having tea in the cloister tea rooms."

"Yes, I remember; we were waiting for my wife."

"Oh, yes, waiting for your wife, were you? Twynning appeared to be thinking. "Well, that's what I mean old man. She's seeing you off, I suppose?"

"No, she's not. She's not too well. Got a rotten cold."

Twynning started again. "Oh, I'm sorry, old man. Well, you'll want to be getting in. I'll tell old Bright what you say about Effie. I quite understand. Seemed a bit funny at first, that's all. Goodbye, old man. Jolly good luck."

He put out his hand and squeezed Sabre's in his intensely friendly grip; and destiny put out its hand and added another and a vital hour to Sabre's ultimate encounter with life.

His leave ended with the one thing utterly unexpected and flagrantly impossible.

Arriving in London about nine he stood on a street refuge to let her cab coming out of the station. As it passed he saw its occupants—two women; and one saw him—Nona! Of all incredible things, Nona!

She stopped the cab and he hurried after it.

"Nona!"

She said, "I'm hurrying to Euston to catch a train. Tony's mother is with me."

How funny her voice was. "Nona, you look ill. You sound ill. What's up? Anything wrong?"

She said, "Oh, Marko, Tony's killed."

..... That came, careering headlong, as though malignity, bitter and wanton, had loosed a savage bolt.

IX

On the following morning he crossed to France, there to take up again that strange identity in whose occupancy his own self was held in abeyance, waiting his return. Seven months passed before he returned to that waiting identity and he resumed it then permanently, done with the war. The tremendous fighting of 1917—his participation in the war—his tenacity of the strange personality caught up in the enormous machinery of it all—ended for him in the great break through of the Hindenburg Line in November. On top of a recollection of sudden shock then of whirling giddiness in which he was conscious of some enormous violence going on but could not feel it—like (as he afterwards thought) beginning to come to in the middle of a tooth extraction under gas—on the top of these and of extraordinary things and scenes and people he could not at all understand came someone saying:

"Well, it's goodbye to the war for you, old man."

He knew that he was aware—and somehow for some time had been aware—that he was in a cot in a ship. He said, "I got knocked out, didn't I?"

..... Someone was telling him some interminable story about someone being wounded in the shoulder and in the knee. He said, and his voice appeared to him to be all jumbled up and thick, "Well, I don't care a damn." .....

MABEL—EFFIE—NONA
CHAPTER I

S AID Hapgood — that zealous Hapgood, solicitor for first in this book spoke of Sabre to a mutual friend—said Hapgood, seated in the comfortable study of his flat, to that same friend, staying the night:

"Well, now, old man, about Sabre. Well, I tell you it's a funny business—see dashed funny business, the position old Hapgood Sabre has got himself into."

"Look here, this is April, April."

"Well, old Sabre took me into a room on the ground floor where they'd put up a bed for him, him not being able to do the stairs, of course."

"Well, as I say, old man, I always rather liked his wife. I always—rather—liked her. But somehow, as we went on through time, and then on after that, I didn't like her quite so much. Have you ever seen a woman unpecking a bit of sewing? Always looks rather angry at it. I suppose because it's got to be unpicked. They sort of flip the threads out, of it, that you. That's you, that you." Well, that was the way she spoke to old Sabre. Sort of snipped off the end of what he was saying—and left it hanging, if you follow me."

"Mind you, I don't mean that he was cowed and afraid to open his mind in his wife's presence. Nothing of the kind. What I got out of it was that he was starved, intellectually starved, mentally starved, starved of the good old milk of human kindness—that's what I mean. Course, she may have had jolly good reason. I dare say she had. Still there it was, and it seemed rather rotten to me. I didn't like it. I mean, in the chap only had one decent leg under the table and an unbecomingly front-looking face above it, and I felt rather sorry for him."

"Look here, this is April, April."

1918. Well, old Sabre got knocked out in France just about five months ago, back in November. He copped it twice—shoulder and knee. Shouldn't think much of that, knee pretty bad. Thought they'd have to take his leg off, one time. Thought better of it, thanks be; patched him up; and sent him home—very groggy, only just able to put the bad leg to the ground, crutches, and going to be a stick and a bit of a thump all his life.

"Very well. That's as he was when I first saw him again. That was back in February. Early in February, two months ago. There was good old me down in Tidborough on business—and remembering about old Sabre having been wounded and discharged, blew into Fortune, East and Sabre's for news of him.

"I got knocked out, didn't I?"

"Of course he wasn't there. Saw old Fortune and the man Twynning and found them in regard to Sabre about as genial and communicative as a maiden aunt over a married sister's new dress. Sort of hunted out the impression that had been out of the business so long that really they weren't much in touch with his doings. Rather rotten, I thought it, seeing that the poor beggar had done his bit in the war and done it pretty thoroughly, too."

"Well, I hopped it over on the railway and walked down to old Sabre's. Found him a bit down the road from his house trying out this game leg of his. By Jove, he was no end bucked to see me. And talk! He simply jumbled. I said, 'By Jove, Sabre, one would think you hadn't met anyone for a month the way you're unpecking the sacred rites of welcome.' He hunched and said, 'Well, you see, I'm a bit tied to a post with this leg of mine.'"

"Look here, this is April, April."

"Well, old Sabre took me into a room on the ground floor where they'd put up a bed for him, him not being able to do the stairs, of course."

"Well, as I say, old man, I always rather liked his wife. I always—rather—liked her. But somehow, as we went on through time, and then on after that, I didn't like her quite so much. Have you ever seen a woman unpecking a bit of sewing? Always looks rather angry at it. I suppose because it's got to be unpicked. They sort of flip the threads out, of it, that you. That's you, that you." Well, that was the way she spoke to old Sabre. Sort of snipped off the end of what he was saying—and left it hanging, if you follow me."

"Mind you, I don't mean that he was cowed and afraid to open his mind in his wife's presence. Nothing of the kind. What I got out of it was that he was starved, intellectually starved, mentally starved, starved of the good old milk of human kindness—that's what I mean. Course, she may have had jolly good reason. I dare say she had. Still there it was, and it seemed rather rotten to me. I didn't like it. I mean, in the chap only had one decent leg under the table and an unbecomingly front-looking face above it, and I felt rather sorry for him."

"Look here, this is April, April."

REDS OPEN SEASON WITH DEFEAT; LOSE TO CUBS, 7 TO 3; CLEVELAND BEATS DETROIT

Opening Games In Big Leagues Yesterday Attract Big Crowds

CINCINNATI, O., April 13.—A capacity crowd witnessed the defeat of Cincinnati in the opener when Chicago defeated the Reds by a score of 7 to 3. Superb pitching by Alexander was mainly responsible for the visiting team's victory. Brilliant fielding by Holloher also was an outstanding feature. Rixey was hit hard in the seventh when five hits drove in four runs and clinched the game for the visitors. A strong Cincinnati rally in the eighth was stopped by two great pickups made by Holloher.

Alexander, who has always been a thorn in the Reds' side was very effective yesterday, using a cross fire delivery that was deceptive. The wizard seemed to have as much stuff on the ball as he ever did, while Rixey let down and had to be ranked after the Cubs began to slam his offerings around the lot. The Red youngsters made a fine showing and were given a great hand when they came to the bat.

Looking Over First Day's Box Scores

NEW YORK, April 13.—Opening games of the major leagues season were marked yesterday most instances by the work of the men on the pitcher's mound. "Dutch" Riecher, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, engaged Artie Nehf, of the Giants, in a tussle at the Polo grounds. "Dutch" permitted only occasional bingles, and won.

Urban Shocker of the Browns, and Urban Faber of the White Sox, had an interesting contest in the Windy City. Faber allowed only three hits, but issued a trio of passes, two of which blossomed into runs and defeat. Shocker was touched for nine scattered wallpops.

Sherd, ace of the Cardinals, was opposed to Cooper, the Pirate star, in St. Louis. Sherd was effective. Cooper wasn't.

Grover Cleveland Alexander hurled the Cubs to an easy victory over the Cincinnati Reds; the veteran moundman Quinn lost a close decision for the Red Sox against Philadelphia through errors and the bespectacled Lee Meadows turned in a fourth game for the Phillies against the Braves.

Over in Washington, Mordridge turned back his former Yankee teammates by virtue of the Senators' wallpopping of Jones' offerings. Tris Speaker's Indians started off in the first division when Morton outpitched Olson and Oldham, of the Cubs' outfit.

Pleased With Rules. CHICAGO, April 13.—Satisfaction over the new football rules, recently promulgated at the meeting of the rules committee in New York, was expressed here last night by Andy Smith, University of California coach.

"The new rule which will make it difficult to score the point after a touchdown is going to decide many hard fought games," Smith said. "I believe most teams will try the kick and I believe about one in five will be successful. Evenly matched eleven will resort to the kick instead of the run or pass. It is mighty difficult to make five yards in one down when close to an opponent's goal line."

Smith said he liked the rule against clipping, declaring that "it is a bad play and should be legislated against." None of the changes, he said, will have any serious bearing on the game as it has been played in recent years.

Earl Goes Some

Earl Smith beat out with the Washington Senators, but the old apple at a swift exit during the exhibition games in which he broke into the lineup this spring. Earl was at bat eleven times and slugged out six hits good for a total of eight bases for a percentage of 55.

This splendid showing won for the versatile local boy the permanent job of holding down left field and he appeared in the Senators' lineup in the opening game Wednesday which his team won over the Yankees 6 to 5. Smith cracked out one hit in four trips to the plate.

WINS ON FOUL. TULSA, OKLA., April 13.—Captain Bob Hooper of Chicago won the first game's decision last night over Carl Morris of Sapulpa, in the third round of a scheduled twelve round bout, when Hooper's claim of a foul was upheld by the referee.

Ohio State Ready For Southern Trip

COLUMBUS, O., April 13.—Baseball paraphernalia is packed at Ohio State University preparatory to departure of the varsity squad tonight on a vacation invasion of Kentucky and Tennessee. The Ohioans open at Georgetown, Ky., Friday. On Saturday they face the University of Kentucky nine at Lexington. The Buckeyes wind up their sojourn with a two days' stand against Vanderbilt at Nashville on April 17 and 18.

Captain Catter, Griffith, Dudley and Phillips, the latter a southpaw, are likely to bear the brunt of the pitching burden for the Ohio States on their road series.

Hunter's Team To Be Tested In Panhandle Game

Manager Fred Hunter put his tribe through a stiff practice session out at the Millbrook pasture Wednesday afternoon and at the conclusion of the practice the players were the best of the team since they went into training more than a week ago.

The athletes are rounding into shape rapidly and will be on edge by Sunday to do battle with the strong Panthers of Columbus in the first and hardest struggle of the year in these parts.

From all indications local fans will again get into the battle in numbers to see the two teams in action as there promises to be a lively doings during the fray. Manager Hunter will send in his strongest line-up against the crack Capital City crew in an effort to take the first argument. The fray will give him a good lesson in his recruits under fire and it is predicted they will have to show all they have to do down the speedy visitors.

Empire Buck Yeager will handle the ball and play will be called at 2:30.

To Consider Changes In Basketball Scoring

COLUMBUS, O., April 13.—Proposals to alter basketball scoring rules will come in for consideration Saturday when the National Rules Committee holds its annual session in New York City.

Director of Athletics, L. W. St. John, of Ohio State University, chairman of the basketball rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, will represent that organization in New York. The other members of the National Committee are W. H. Ball, who is chairman of both the Y. M. C. A. and National Committees on rules, and George Hepburn, of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Suggestions have been made to raise the scoring value of field goals from two to three points, to minimize the penalty for purely technical fouls and to differentiate more strongly between personal fouls committed under a basket and those committed outside the immediate scoring zone.

Morvich Looms As Rival Of The Great Man O' War

MORVICH AND HIS OWNER, BEN BLOCK

BY BOB DORMAN
JAMAICA, L. I., April 13.—Does a race horse eagerly await the call to the barrier?

I am positive Morvich, the wonder two-year-old, is having a hard time of it awaiting the running of the Louisville Derby.

Also unless I am badly mistaken, Morvich is certain to be a big sensation as a three-year-old as he was in the two-year-old class.

Fred Burlew, his trainer, who has been connected with the running game for 30 years in the capacity of trainer, remarked to me as Morvich was saddled for his first tryout of the year:

"Morvich is the greatest horse I have ever trained. However, he is such a glutton for work that it is some job to keep him from going stale."

"He is practically ready for the derby as he is. It doesn't take long to get him in shape. I want him to be at his best for the derby, and if he is he will make us all throw out our chests."

After a winter of idleness, in which the only exercise he got was being led around the big stable where he is quartered, I watched Morvich turn in a wonderful mile his first time out. He negotiated the distance in 1:44 3-5.

Recently without a trace of urging and, for a part of the half-mile at least, under a pull at the hands of his rider, Morvich covered the distance in 47 4-5 seconds.

Morvich is a remarkable horse. He was unbeaten as a two-year-old. On form he looks to be in for another big year. If he comes through as a three-year-old he will be entitled to be compared with the great Man O' War.

THINGS ARE "LOOKING UP"

VIRTUALLY every important business weather sign points to distinct, though not drastic, improvement in conditions and activity, according to a writer on business conditions whose observations are daily printed in many papers.

Here is news from one financial page, which shows clearly the trend of trade, with which even the coal strike is not allowed to interfere:

The Union Pacific railroad will begin work immediately on improvements to cost $29,000,000.

The Pennsylvania railroad will immediately spend $8,000,000 in improvements, and probably more later in the year.

"Marked improvement in agriculture and a better outlook for business generally," is the announcement of Acting Director Davis of the War Finance corporation.

Both prices and orders have improved in the steel industry. Portland, Oregon, reports a rapid gain in shipping.

The largest copper mining companies have resumed operations on an 80 per cent basis.

Detroit automobile concerns have taken back thousands of workmen during the past week.

These are signs of the times, straws in the business wind, and the wise manufacturer or merchant will trim his business sails accordingly.

AND WE CANNOT BE THERE

NEWS FROM Belgium that Armand Jeannes, betrayer of Edith Cavell and 125 other Belgians who were shot by the Germans is to be given a public execution will cause regret in this country—regret that Belgium is so far away.

It is not surprising that the trial of the traitor, which revealed for the first time the identity of the betrayer of the martyr English nurse, has made him an object of universal execration in Belgium. Like many other persons of his type Jeannes was given to boasting. This weakness led to the discovery of the part he played as a spy for Germany. There were no less than 126 victims of his activity, among them the heroic English nurse.

Jeannes was a crafty traitor. He joined a secret organization of Belgians which was organized to defeat German designs. The information he obtained was turned over to the Germans. The accused, not knowing where the information came from, did not have any chance to defend themselves. Edith Cavell, it will be recalled, was condemned in secret and shot while American and Spanish diplomatic representatives were protesting to the German officials.

This case is but another melancholy reminder of the character of the German rule in Belgium—its utter disregard of the principles either of law or of humanity. Many of the offenders are beyond the reach of punishment. The greatest of them all lives in luxury in Holland. But it will be a great day when Edith Cavell's slayer gets his. It should be a day of rejoicing the world over.

DEPORT THOSE ALIENS

DEPORTATION of aliens who persist in violating the prohibition law as one effective way to curb violators of the dry act is recommended by officials of the prohibition enforcement department. It is a suggestion that will be endorsed by every right-thinking American. The house immigration committee learned from one official that 80 per cent of Volstead act violators are aliens. That is something to think about.

Examination of the court lists in almost any community will convince anyone that this official was not exaggerating conditions when he made his estimate. Especially is this true in the matter of conducting illicit stills. The product of "moonshine mountain" stills in the South is not a drop in the bucket in comparison with the output of alien-operated stills in the large industrial centers. These aliens have forfeited all claims to protection of this government, and should be sent back to their own countries if they will not obey the laws. Aliens have been refused citizenship because they had been convicted of violations of the laws, and if they are not eligible to become citizens, they are hardly desirable residents of the United States.

Prohibition law violations would decrease at least 50 per cent if the department of justice had the power to certify to the immigration authorities the record of any alien found guilty of a second offense. Aliens are not responsible for all lawlessness, but they have made a large contribution to it, and they should be required to answer to the government in no uncertain way.

Eye specialists declare that green quiets the nerves. It has been noticed that a display of self-owned greenbacks does have a powerfully soothing effect. It sometimes helps the nerve, too, singular as that may sound.

The railroads may have coal to burn, but what they need is coal to burn.

Virtue may be its own reward, but vice gets its picture on the front page.

If short skirts are worn to display feminine charms, some poor judgment is also displayed.

Free air for tires is about the only worth while thing that has ever been bottled and given away.

Berlin printers now work 46 hours a week instead of 41, probably to increase the output of marks.

Former Judge Landis has been demoted from the front page to the sporting page, but there are certain additional elements.

JOSEPH'S BRETHREN

JACOB who was in Canaan heard there was corn in Egypt, he sent his ten eldest sons to buy, he kept Benjamin at home. Joseph knew his brethren when they came before him but they did not know him. They bowed themselves down to him with their faces on the ground. At first he did not make himself known to them for he wished to try them. So he cast them into prison as spies but allowed nine of them to go home keeping one as prison until they should come back with their youngest brother, whom they had not mentioned.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 13.—Old age in New York is riding Youth a close race. Grandma inhales her cigarette with that quick intake of breath that is so characteristic of the flapper. And does she toddle to jazz? Go to the Palais Royal, the Montmartre, the Club Royal any night and you will see Grandma there just full of the Old Lady.

Her hair is marcelled and glistening. Her evening gown is cut to the mode. She carries her rouge, powder and lipstick and silver cigarette case. She may have a $10 a night hooter as her escort but she isn't any wall flower. Nor is she paying too much for a whiff from the other corner.

In fact Grandma appears to be making her debut. Instead of the chimney corner and the smoldering sofa, she occupies a front row table at the supper club with the flask in the office. A few years ago Grandma's disposition was a ride up and down the avenue in a four-wheeler holding a postage stamp parasol. Then tea and a nap.

Something has happened. In a quiet street in the Fifties there is a tea room. The other afternoon I saw more than a score of women far past middle age, lavender and old lace of another period—drinking tea and smoking one cigarette after another. One of the fussy Fifth Avenue

H. C. Witwer, the slang essayist, left New York flat a year ago. At the station he held up one hand and shouted "Never Again!" to reporters. He was going out there in the open spaces where men are men. Well—Witwer is back in town lured by the royalty possibilities in writing a summer show. He says, however, that he was prompted to return because he lived next door to the slightest man in the world during his stay in California. "That bird was so stingy," said Witwer, that he even refused to give his favorite child a middle name.

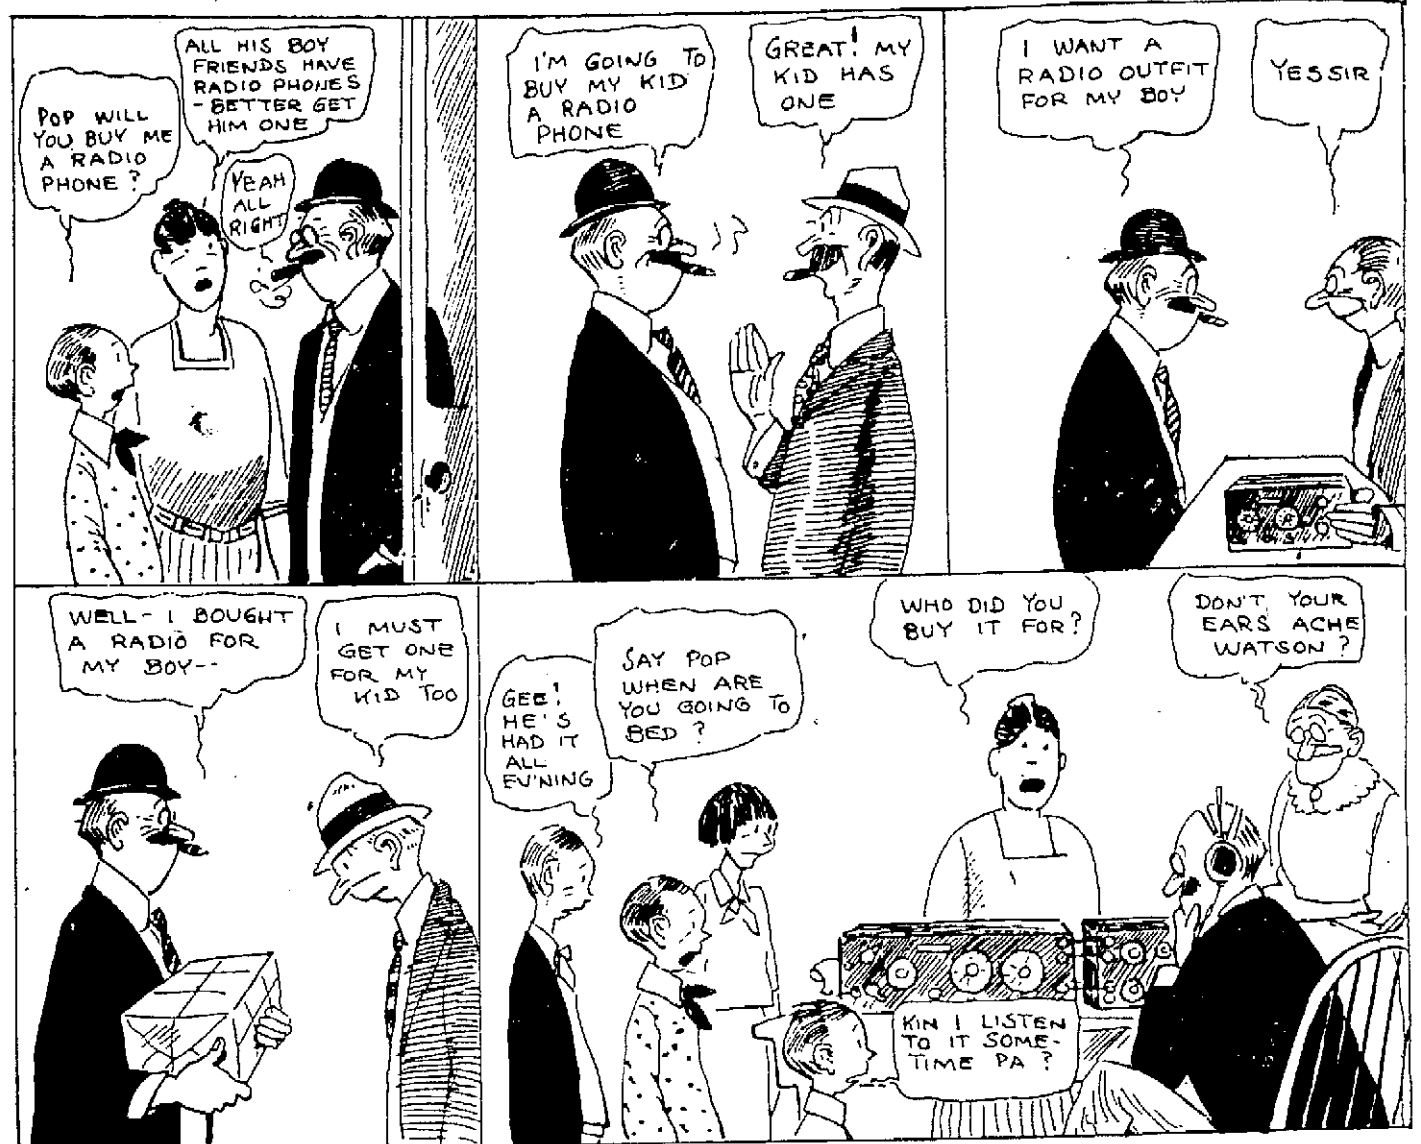

A hotel bell-boy, was called to the cloak room at the dinner hour. The attendant told him to go into the cafe and find a big, tall red faced, jolly looking fellow.

(McLandburgh Wilson in New York Herald)

In days of old, within a wood A Tree in branching splendor stood: Like all the others there it seemed, Nor of a special greatness dreamed.

It gave forest ministry Of shelter, shade and beauty free, And every year it brought to men A hope that was betrayed again.

A sudden glory filled the place, An angle stood with shining face— The same who unto Mary came And hailed her in a wondrous name.

"Nor bud nor leaf," he told the Tree, "Shall be your chosen destiny But it shall be your lot to bring To all mankind eternal Spring."

The angel vanished. After him The great Tree saw the wood grow dim: Grow dim and fade away until Remained a thunder shaken hill.
